May 5th from 8: 30 to 4:00, lunch is provided

TALKING WITH YOUR DOCTOR is a workshop for everyone that explores problems people have when they talk with their doc. It presents tips and gives you a chance to try things that will help you have a better relationship with your doctor.

As a facilitator you will learn to demonstrate techniques like:

- PRESENTING detailed information about how you are feeling
- ASKING questions if the information you want is not provided
- CHECKING your understanding of information given to you
- EXPRESSING your concerns about the recommended treatment

The training is free and provided by Dr Bill Godolphin and Dr. Angela Towles from UBC Division of Healthcare Communication

The pay rate for teaching the 2 hour workshop is $ 52.50.
